OFFICIAL 2011 PRODUCT PRICE-LIST

Help Us, Help YOU!

Over the past 25 years, we here at Mental Case Inc. have seen anything and everything the road can throw your way. We too were touring musicians at one point and some of us still are! With that being said, we highly recommend that when given advice by our staff on do's and don'ts or case design... take the advice. We know what works best for long term use in harsh touring environments. We don't tell you how to play your instrument, so don't tell us how to build your case!

NOTE In most situations we will need to know the outside dimensions on whatever it is you are looking to protect. We strongly suggest that you physically measure the object yourself. Although most manufacturers publish dimensions on their websites, there is a damn good chance they are incorrect. We've learned the hard way that you can't always rely on those specifications.

GUITAR VAULT

Standard guitar vaults come carpet lined with a fixed mount neck rest system and may accommodate both guitars and basses. Our vaults are made to meet both American & European truck pack requirements. See below for upgrade options.

NOTE: Mental Case staff will need to know what instruments you plan on using most in your mini. In some situations the case will need to be modified to fit your gear and could effect pricing.
